

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Tell me about your best friend!

Learning Outcome

Describe hypothetical situations in written and spoken interactions according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Who was your best friend when you were growing up?
- Why were you friends?
- Do you still keep in touch?

Can Do Statements

- I talk about friendship, emotions and behavior.
- I can quote other people.
- I can ask for clarification and ask for someone's opinion.

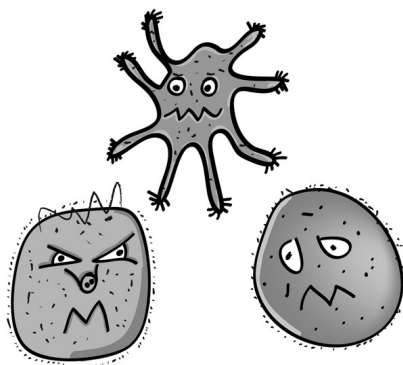

Let's Explore!

Johnny is always spreading rumors about other people.

* "Rumors" are stories passed from person to person without having been proven to be true.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: Sally you're a popular girl, aren't you?
Sally: You know it.
Peter: You were popular in school, weren't you?
Sally: Pretty popular.
Peter: So tell me, who was your best friend in elementary school?
Sally: Oh wow! That's a difficult question, isn't it? So long ago. I would say my best friend was Michelle Reynolds. We grew up together and used to always play together after school. We were thick as thieves. She was fun and a little bit naughty too. She would always start rumors and spread gossip. One day she told a boy that I liked that I liked him. The next day he came up to me and told me what Michelle said. He asked me if I wanted a kiss.
- Peter: What did you say?
Sally: I said, "Gross!", punched him in the arm and ran away. I didn't like him after that and he never asked again.
- Peter: You were mad at Michelle, weren't you?
Sally: Not really, but I got her back. I told a boy she liked that she had cooties.
Peter: Cooties? That means germs, doesn't it?
Sally: Yep. Classic but effective.
- Vanessa: Hey guys. What are you talking about?
Peter: Sally told me that she kissed all the boys when she was in school.
Sally: Peter!
Peter: She also said she liked to spread rumors and gossip.
Sally: I'm going to give you such a smack.
Peter: She told me she kissed a boy once and he said, "oh, gross".
Sally: You are such a jerk! He is such a jerk, isn't he?
Vanessa: He is a bad man.

Let's Practice!

Sally, Peter and Vanessa talk about what they did and said.

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentence. Rewrite each sentence in the correct order. Practice reading the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. I / him / liked / . / she / a / told / One / boy / that / day

2. me / . / kiss / wanted / a / I / He / asked / if

3. the / was / told / she / kissed / boys / that / . / me / when / school / in / Sally / all / she

4. to / . / rumors / said / spread / liked / she / She / also

5. and / said, / " / once / " / a / She / he / gross / oh, / kissed / boy / she / told / . / me

Let's Practice!

Peter and Sally are best friends, aren't they?

Instructions: Read the sentences. Complete them by choosing the correct answer from below. Read the sentences aloud. Compare yourself to a partner. Correct each other's pronunciation.

1. Sally you're a popular girl, _____?
aren't you / isn't you / aren't they
2. You were popular in school, _____?
weren't me / weren't you / could you
3. Oh wow! That's a difficult question, _____?
isn't it / not is it / aren't they
4. Cooties? That means germs, _____?
weren't it / didn't it / doesn't it
5. He is such a jerk, _____?
isn't he / aren't they / he is

Extension Activity

Write about your best friend growing up!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write about your best friend growing up.
- Where did you meet? Why did you become friends? What activities did you do? What did you talk about?
- Do you remember the conversation the first day you met?
- Use reported speech to report what was said. If you can't remember exactly create a conversation.
- Write 200 words giving the full information.
- After exchange papers with a partner and edit their work.
- Discuss your friends with your partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I recount stories of childhood friends.

☐ ☐

I report on childhood conversations using reported speech.

☐ ☐

I write the full information about it in 200 words.

☐ ☐

I share my written piece with a partner.

☐ ☐

I edit my partner's writing.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- gross (adjective): rude or offensive e.g. I said, "Gross!", punched him in the arm and ran away.
- thick as thieves (expression): used to talk about a special bond people have for each other e.g. We were thick as thieves.
- rumors (noun): information or stories that are passed from person to person but have not been proven to be true e.g. She would always start rumors and spread gossip.
- gossip (noun): stories spread around that may or may not be true about people e.g. She would spread gossip.
- jerk (noun): a person who is not well liked or who treats other people badly e.g. You are such a jerk!
- smack (noun): a hit from someone's flat hand as a punishment
e.g. I'm going to give you such a smack.
- popular (adjective): regarded with favor and approval by many people e.g. You were popular at school, weren't you?
- naughty (adjective): badly behaved, disobedient
e.g. She was fun and a little bit naughty too.

Learning Points

Reported Speech and Questions

You use reported speech (indirect speech) when you are saying (reporting) what other people said.

When writing, it is common to use reported speech in storytelling and narrations. It allows the writer to share dialogue with the reader without always using quotation marks.

When you tell people what someone has said you generally make the verb tense 'more in the past' since we are reporting the information at a later time. You need to change the verb to the next past form.

For example:

Direct speech	Reported speech
"I like him."	He said he liked him.
"I' m coming to the party."	He said he was coming to the party.
"I already ate ."	He said he had already eaten.
"I can cook."	He told me he could cook.

You have to change the pronoun if you are reporting what someone else said. Compare these two sentences. In each case the person actually said "I don't want to go."

- I said, "I don't want to go." > I said I didn't want to go.
- Bill said, "I don't want to go." > Bill said he didn't want to go.

Direct: Sally told me "I kissed all the boys when I was in school".

Indirect: Sally told me that she had kissed all the boys when she had been in school.

When you want to report questions asked, the subject normally comes before the verb. When the question is a yes/no questions, you use if or whether to report it.

He asked if/whether we could talk.

Learning Points

Look at the chart below to see the changes in verb tense.

Direct speech	Reported speech
Simple Present	Simple Past
Present Progressive	Past Progressive
Simple Past	Past Perfect
Present Perfect	Past Perfect
Past Progressive	Past Perfect Progressive
Future Simple (will)	Conditional (would)
Modal Can	Modal Could
Modal May	Modal Might
Modal Will	Modal Would

Examples:

- One day she told a boy that I liked him.
- The next day he came up to me and told me what Michelle said.
- Sally told me that she kissed all the boys when she was in school.
- She also said she liked to spread rumors and gossip.
- She told me she kissed a boy once and he said, "oh, gross".
- Excuse me sir, did he ask if we could talk?
- Did he just ask if it was important?

Tag Questions

You use tag questions to ask for clarification and confirmation.

Tag Questions come at the end of statements. They are short questions.

They are mostly used in spoken English if we want to:

- confirm whether or not something is true, or
- to encourage a response from someone we are talking to.

1. A positive statement comes before a negative question tag. Use this when you think the other person will agree by saying 'yes'

Learning Points

- You were taken by surprise, weren't you?
- You are Canadian, aren't you?
- She has a brother, doesn't she?
- He can speak English, can't he?

1. A negative statement is followed by a positive question tag. Use this when you think the other person will agree by saying 'no'

- You weren't taken by surprise, were you?
- You aren't Canadian, are you?
- She doesn't have a brother, does she?
- He can't speak English, can he?

If the main verb is to be or a modal verb, the tag will be the same.

For all other main verbs, use the tag do/does or did/didn't. Look at the examples in the chart.

Main Verb	Tag
He is/was	isn't/wasn't he?
You are	aren't you?
He can	can't he?
We could	couldn't we?
You will	won't you?
She has/had	doesn't/didn't she?
You have	don't you?
He likes	doesn't he?
You like	don't you?
You liked	didn't you?

Examples:

- Oh wow! That's a difficult question, isn't it?
- He is such a jerk, isn't he?
- You were mad at Michelle, weren't you?
- That means germs, doesn't it?

