

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

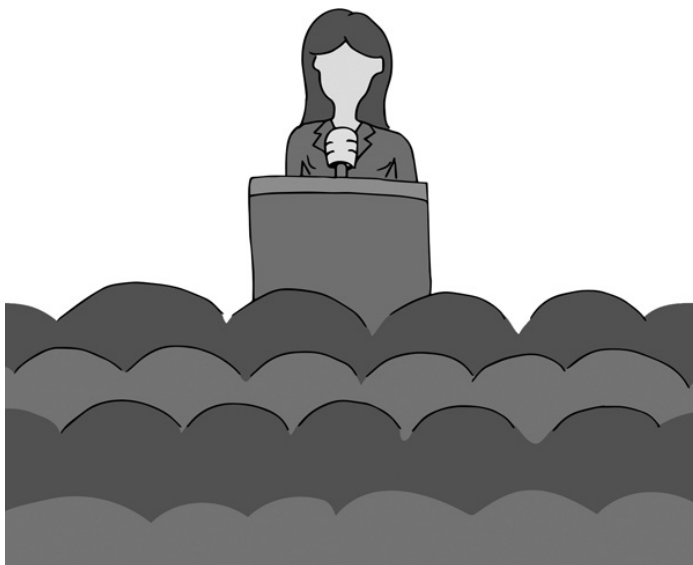

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Watching a TED TALK video.

Learning Outcome

Describe situations in spoken interactions according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Have you ever watched a TED TALK video? If yes, which one?
- What are your favorite TED TALK topics to watch?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about emotions, friendship and reaction in different situations.
- I can quote other people.
- I can ask for clarification and ask for someone's opinion.

Let's Explore!

My friends always have my back in case I am trouble.

* To "have someone's back" means to be willing to support or defend someone.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: Vanessa, do you have a minute?
- Vanessa : Sorry sir. You have been served, haven't you?
- Peter: Can we talk about your e-mail?
- Vanessa: Excuse me sir, he asked me if we could talk?
- Man: Yes.
- Peter: It is important, isn't it? I mean what you wrote about our friendship was pretty serious stuff.
- Vanessa: He just asked me if it was important, right?
- Man: Yes.
- Vanessa: That's right Peter serious, you know, the opposite of you.
- Vanessa: You are finished with that, aren't you?
- Peter: Vanessa. Why don't we ...
- Vanessa: Why don't you hush and listen to me. You didn't go to work on Sunday afternoon, did you Peter? You went downtown to another bistro, didn't you?
- Peter: Vanessa. This is silly. Of course, you know that already. Your friend told you I was there. Oh, and by the way, what else did she say, exactly?
- Vanessa: I told you in the email what she said. She said, you were having a drink. She also said, you were watching the game instead of hanging out with your two best friends. Best friends who always listen to your troubles, who always support you and your little pitiful problems with romance. We are the friends who help you whenever you need it and we always have your back.
- Peter: Vanessa. You are making a scene.
- Vanessa: I don't care. This is my place. You know what ... you obviously still don't understand why I'm upset, so why don't you get out of my bistro.
- Peter: Really? Vanessa. I ...
- Vanessa: Scram! Peter. Hit the bricks!
- Peter: C'mon V. This is ridiculous.
- Vanessa: Get your ugly face out of my place. No, not you sir. Would you like another?

Let's Practice!

Vanessa believes in true friendship. Let's read about it.

Instructions: Underline all the verbs that are related to friendship. Read the paragraph aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Vanessa is upset. Peter wanted to talk to her but she didn't want to listen to him. She's sure that a friendship is serious. Peter didn't want to hang out with her anymore. She always had his back when he needed help.

Let's Practice!

Let's ask some questions.

Instructions: Read the sentences using tag questions for each case. Write the missing words. Practice your pronunciation by asking the question to a partner. Switch roles.

1. Friends help each other, _____?
2. You didn't go to school, _____?
3. You would like another drink, _____?
4. You are my best buddy, _____?
5. You have been served, _____?

Extension Activity

Report on a TED TALK episode.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Watch a TED TALK on a topic you find interesting.
- Watch it a couple of times and take notes on the important information.
- Use the interactive transcript to select three important direct quotes from the TED Talk.
- Write a brief summary of the talk and include the three direct quotes in your article as indirect speech.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I practice listening for gist and for detail.

☐ ☐

I take notes on my TED TALK topic.

☐ ☐

I skim and scan for information.

☐ ☐

I write a brief summary of the talk.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- pitiful (adjective): deserving or causing feelings of pity or sympathy
e.g. We always support you and your little pitiful problems with romance.
- to hush (verb): to make a person become quiet, or still e.g. Why don't you hush and listen to me?
- to have your back (expression): if somebody "always has your back" it means that they are always there to support you e.g. We always have your back.
- to make a scene (expression): to make a public disturbance or excited emotional display e.g. You are making a scene.
- to scram (verb): to go abruptly
e.g. Get out of here! Scram!
- hit the bricks (expression): an impolite way of saying go away
e.g. Scram! Peter. Hit the bricks!

Learning Points

Reported Speech and Questions

You use reported speech (indirect speech) when you are saying (reporting) what other people said.

In writing, it is common to use reported speech in storytelling and narrations. It allows the writer to share dialogue with the reader without always using quotation marks.

When you tell people what someone has said you generally make the verb tense 'more in the past' since we are reporting the information at a later time. You need to change the verb to the next past form.

For example:

Direct speech	Reported speech
"I like him."	He said he liked him.
"I'm coming to the party."	He said he was coming .
"I already ate ."	He said he had already eaten.
"I can cook."	He told me he could cook.

When you report what someone has said, you need to change the pronoun. Compare these two sentences. In each case the person actually said "I don't like chocolate"

I said, "I don't like chocolate." > I said I didn't like chocolate.

Bill said, "I don't like chocolate." > Bill said he didn't like chocolate.

When you want to report questions asked, the subject normally comes before the verb.

Direct: Where is the sun?

Indirect: The wind asked where the sun was.

When the question is a yes/no questions, you use if or whether to report it.

The sun asks if/whether the wind would be around without shifting temperatures.

Learning Points

Look at the chart below to see the changes in verb tense.

Direct speech	Reported speech
Simple Present	Simple Past
Present Progressive	Past Progressive
Simple Past	Past Perfect
Present Perfect	Past Perfect
Past Progressive	Past Perfect Progressive
Future Simple (will)	Conditional (would)
Modal Can	Modal Could
Modal May	Modal Might
Modal Will	Modal Would

Tag Questions

You use tag questions to clarify or confirm whether or no something is true.

Question tags are short questions at the end of statements.

These are used to:

- confirm whether or not something is true, or
- to show you expect a reply from the person you are talking to.

1. A positive statement is followed by a negative question tag. Use this when you think the other person will agree by saying 'yes'

- You were taken by surprise, weren't you?
- You are Canadian, aren't you?
- She has a brother, doesn't she?
- He can speak English, can't he?

1. A negative statement is followed by a positive question tag. Use this when you think the other person will agree by saying 'no'

- You weren't taken by surprise, were you?

Learning Points

- You aren't Canadian, are you?
- She doesn't have a brother, does she?
- He can't speak English, can he?

If the main verb is to be or a modal verb, the tag will be the same.

For all other main verbs, use the tag do/does or did/didn't. Look at the examples in the chart.

Main Verb	Tag
He is/was	isn't/wasn't he?
You are	aren't you?
He can	can't he?
We could	couldn't we?
You will	won't you?
She has/had	doesn't/didn't she?
You have	don't you?
He likes	doesn't he?
You like	don't you?
You liked	didn't you?

Examples:

- It is important, isn't it?
- You are finished with that, aren't you?
- You didn't go to work on Sunday afternoon, did you Peter?
- You went downtown to another bistro, didn't you?

