Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Describe ways of solving problems and getting things done in written and spoken situations and in work and social contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about what I will do, what I will be doing or what I will have done.
- I can talk about solving problems.
- I can quote other people.

Ask your partner:

- Which friends do you borrow clothes from? Do you lend them clothes as well?
- Have you ever had trouble when sharing your stuff or clothes?

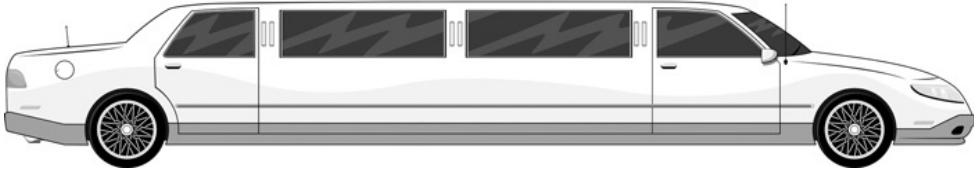

Let's Explore!

I took my best friend from college out last night and we painted the town red.

* "Paint the town red" means to go out in a town or city and celebrate.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: I'm so hungry.
- Sally: Peter told me that as soon as he arrives, we are going to an amazing place to eat. I'm looking forward to it. Peter asked, "what food are you craving?"
- Vanessa: I don't know Sally. It's Friday and we're busy. The restaurant needs to be run; the staff needs organizing, the schedule needs updating and orders need to be made. I hope this is worth it.
- Sally: V.
- Vanessa: I had extra servers come in and also had an extra bartender come down tonight.
- Sally: Hmmm. Where did you get those shoes?
- Vanessa: I got my friend Sally to lend them to me. I got her to lend me this necklace as well.
- Sally: Nice. How about the dress?
- Vanessa: I got Mr. Versace to sell it to me.
- Sally: Haha.
- Sally: Peter asked me to ask you, "do you want to go dancing?"
- Vanessa: Sure.
- Sally: I hope those shoes won't have hurt your feet by the end of the evening.
- Vanessa: Where is he? It's 6:45.
- Sally: He said he would be here at 7:00 p.m. He'll be here by then. We are going to have a good time.
- Vanessa: I know. I took tomorrow off. So when I get home, I know I will not be working Saturday brunch and I also won't be working in the evening.
- Sally: I took tomorrow off too. So I won't be doing anything.
- Vanessa: Who is making all that noise?
- Sally: Extraordinary! I am intrigued.
- Peter: Ladies, welcome. After tonight, you girls will have eaten the best food, seen the best show around and have danced at the most popular nightclubs in town.
- Vanessa: You didn't tell me he was bringing a limo.
- Sally: He didn't tell me either.
- Peter: Ladies, let's paint the town red.

Learning Points

The Future Tenses

You use will to talk about things that are not decided or when you make a decision at the moment of speaking for the future, you use the modal will.

You use the Future Continuous tense to talk about something happening at a particular time in the future.

You use the Future Perfect tense to talk about an action in the future before another action in the future. This is the past in the future.

When you use the Future Continuous, the action will have started before that moment, but it will not have finished at that moment.

When you use the Future Perfect, you can sometimes think of the Future Perfect tense like the Present Perfect tense, but instead of your viewpoint being in the present, it is in the future.

Look at the chart for the structure of the Future Continuous and Future Perfect tenses:

Name	Structure	Example
Future Continuous	be going to/ will (not) + be + v-ing	I also won't be working in the evening.
Future Perfect	will + have + past participle	You girls will have eaten the best food.

Examples:

- I hope those shoes won't have hurt your feet by the end of the evening.
- He'll be here by then.
- I know I will not be working Saturday brunch and I also won't be working in the evening.
- So I won't be doing anything.
- After tonight, you girls will have eaten the best food, seen the best show around and have danced at the most popular nightclubs in town.

Talking About Solving Problems

You can use need + passive infinitive and need + verb + ing to talk about things that need to be done.

You use a causative verb when you want to talk about something that someone else did for you or for another person. It means that the subject caused the action to happen, but didn't do it itself.

You use need + passive infinitive and need + verb + ing to focus on the thing that needs doing, not the person who is doing it.

Learning Points

Subject + Need + Passive Infinitive

The restaurant needs to be run.

The subject of the sentence is the thing that needs doing.

Subject + need + verb + ing

The schedule needs updating.

When you use need with a gerund (v-ing), it has a passive meaning.

You use the causative verbs get/have when you want to make it clear that the subject paid, asked, or persuaded the other person to do something.

For example:

Have your spouse or housemates clean up after themselves.

In this sentence you ask or persuade your spouse to clean up after themselves.

The structure of the causative is:

have + object + verb

I had some extra servers come in.

or

Subject + get + object + Infinitive

I got her to lend me this necklace as well.

Sometimes, you use get when you want to convey the feeling that you need to convince someone to do something. Have is a little more neutral.

Examples:

- The restaurant needs to be run.
- The staff needs organizing.
- The schedule needs updating.
- Orders need to be made.
- I had some extra servers come in.
- I had an extra bartender come down tonight.
- I got my friend Sally to lend them to me.
- I got her to lend me this necklace as well.
